

Shipping Services

Between Tasmania and mainland Australia

Toll ANL Bass Strait Shipping operates the most comprehensive shipping services between Tasmania and mainland Australia. Twin, purpose-built, roll on/roll off vessels, and modern terminals fully operated by Toll Shipping, facilitate the only two-way, six days per week service.

The dedicated terminals at Melbourne's Webb Dock and McGaw Wharf in Burnie utilise cutting-edge Ro/Ro cargo handling technology.

Intermodal Service Capability

An on-wharf rail link in Burnie, together with proximity to key road arteries in Melbourne and Burnie provide an inter-modal service capability extending throughout Australia, for all customers.

The capacity of our vessels is a key feature resulting in our ability to move large volumes of freight at all times as required by our customers.

Toll Shipping move and distribute approximately 150,000 twenty-foot container equivalents and 20,000 cars annually in Bass Strait for Tasmanian and mainland distribution.

Strong IT Platform

Toll ANL Bass Strait Shipping currently has an integrated IT system with land based logistics providers. Business to business communication is enabled via a corporate Web Methods message gateway, this allows event driven interfaces to be developed with its trading partners.

Our systems allow secure access to operational and financial information via the internet, this information can be easily exported to spreadsheet for further analysis.

Adding Value

Toll ANL Bass Strait Shipping has access to a national network via the Toll Group and additionally access to an international network via CMA CGM.

Our vessels are the most consistent and reliable vessels in the industry, and we offer 7 day week sailing in peak periods.

We have the largest and most diverse pool of equipment available in the market, ranging from standard 9'6 containers to 40' high cube containers.

We have state-of-the-art terminals at Webb Dock and Burnie, designed to provide efficient cargo loading and unloading and we also have direct access to rail services in Burnie.
